

Pramod John, CEO, VIVIO Health

Pramod John is team leader of VIVIO Health, a company that is reinventing the therapeutic use and supply chain for the specialty drug space. VIVIO Health's solution is challenging the current framework of efficacy and extending it to true effectiveness in the real world using data and analytics. VIVIO Health's model offers significant drug acquisition savings and simplicity for the patient by integrating the supply chain into a unified process. VIVIO Health has grown rapidly and customers include the F500 in various industries such as distribution, manufacturing, high-tech, mining, healthcare services and education.

Prior to VIVIO Health, Pramod was founder of Oration PBC (acquired by Pokitdok) which was focused on giving back consumers control over their drug purchasing by capturing the prescription in the physician's office and providing real time pricing options and automatic routing capabilities. Pramod was also VP of Strategy and Innovation at McKesson, the world's largest healthcare company. At McKesson, Pramod helped develop solutions that leveraged advanced technologies and business process improvements to optimize healthcare delivery systems, infrastructure and supply chains.

Earlier, Pramod founded and served as CEO of PacketMotion, Inc., a venture-funded startup in the enterprise network information and policy management industry. The company was later acquired by VMWare. Pramod also founded netExaminer.com, a managed-vulnerability assessment company acquired by SonicWALL (owned by Dell).

Pramod earned his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He serves on the Boards of Mission Aviation Fellowship, a global relief organization and 3 Crosses Church in Castro Valley, CA. He also serves on the advisory board of Folia Water and as a mentor at StartX.