

Brent Jensen

FSA, MAAA
Principal and Consulting Actuary

EXPERIENCE

Brent's consulting experience covers a wide range of health actuarial projects. He leads projects including provider consulting, commercial pricing, reserving, employer health and welfare benefits consulting, and financial forecasting. His clients include large employers, insurance companies, hospital and physician groups, and other risk-taking provider organizations.

Brent's recent experience includes:

- Employer H&W consulting – including strategic decision support, reserving, benefit design, employee contributions, and point solution evaluations
- Plan design relativity studies
- ACA rate filings
- Stop loss pricing and evaluation using simulations to help employer evaluate the value of purchasing stop loss coverage
- Extensive COVID-19 modeling and analysis for firmwide COVID-19 model development
- Benchmarking analyses to compare cost and utilization of services to regionally adjusted norms
- Wellness program ROI studies by applying risk adjustment to validate alternative methods for evaluating wellness programs
- Payer/Provider risk sharing arrangement and contract review to evaluate and set key parameters
- Bundled payment development studies to validate appropriate bundle amounts
- Evaluations of Centers of Excellence to estimate cost and utilization savings for these centers
- Contingency reserve analysis
- Actuarial aspects of annual statement work

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATIONS

- Fellow, Society of Actuaries
- Member, American Academy of Actuaries

EDUCATION

- BA, Economics, Brigham Young University

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Brent is a Principal and consulting actuary in the Salt Lake City office of Milliman. He joined the firm in 2010.

PUBLICATIONS

- "How Employers Can Address Plan Selection Bias with Risk Adjustment", Milliman White Paper, September 2019
- "Direct Contracting: A program summary and comparison with MSSP and NGACO", Milliman White Paper, March 2020
- "Summary of changes to the CMS Direct Contracting program", Milliman White Paper, December 2020
- "Is the vaccine for COVID-19 a white knight for employers?", Milliman White Paper, December 2020
- "How does COVID-19 impact risk-based contracting?", Milliman White Paper, January 2021

